Our New York office services both buy and sell side clients, which combined with our direct exposure to the floor in Chicago, provides access to deep and diverse sources of liquidity. We are seeking to enhance and build upon our strong Chicago business platform by focusing and adding value to our clients' specific needs. Our NY team focuses on timely derivative market analysis and provides real time intraday information that is tradable and alpha generating. XFA differentiates itself from other broker dealers by hiring and supporting intelligent and seasoned employees who are the best and brightest in their particular market space. Reputation and past experience are a pre-requisite and necessity for joining our team.

The group we are building in NY is a core of solid and trustworthy individuals who bring a diverse set of backgrounds and strengths to deliver "best in class" execution services to our customers. While our office is currently focused on equity derivatives (Single Stock, Index and ETF), we also have a large presence in Futures and Futures Options and are currently expanding our reach to include cash equities and fixed income. We realize how important it is to have multi asset class capabilities to adequately service our customers.
